July 30, 2013

The finals of the Summer in the City featured an All-NorCal matchup with CA Ballaz I and host EBX Black. Behind a big game from Berkeley's Desire Finnie, the Ballaz captured the title with a 54-41 win to end the July viewing period. We take a look at some of the top unsigned rising seniors and a pair of 2015 posts.

Desire Finnie 5-foot-10 F Berkeley (CA Ballaz I) 2014: It becomes repetitive to write this each time we see Finnie, but the 3-star rising senior brought good energy this weekend. She is a quick jumper, can push the ball off rebounds and is developing her offensive repertoire. Finnie is at her best slashing to the basket and finishing a couple different ways. She scored 23 points in the finals against EBX and said she is planning upcoming visits to USC and Oregon.

Desire Finnie proudly holds the SITC championship trophy

Morgan Green 5-foot-8 PG Pacific Collegiate (EBX Black) 2014: Battling a shoulder injury, Green still showed her elite athleticism in controlling stretches of games. She has a very good first step, is a playmaker off the bounce and gets into the lane consistently. She is an active defender who likes to take chances and make big plays. Her shooting needs to become more consistent, but she remains one of the top prospects in NorCal.

Jasmine Hampton 6-foot-0 PF Modesto Christian (EBX Black) 2014: Hampton is a little undersized, but has a nice skill set to work with. She is a solid rebounder, can step out for the mid-range jumper at times and works hard to get position on the block. Ranked No. 21, she is a nice option for teams looking for low post scoring.

Lauren Seyranian 5-foot-10 SG Piedmont (Team Mariani) 2014: There is plenty to like about Seyranian, but she struggles to put it all together. She has good size, is a good shooter with three point range and can handle it a little bit. However, she lacks top end foot speed and doesn't impact the game defensively as much as she should. The rising senior grades out as a Division II prospect with the potential to blossom if everything clicks.

Mariah Williams 5-foot-10 F Vanden (CA Ballaz I) 2014: Williams is a physical small forward type who had good moments the last two days. She handles contact well and displayed better ball handling than seen earlier. She is the most effective going all of the way to the basket and scoring or getting to the line. However, she had a couple of nice pull-up jumpers. She is ranked No. 26 as a 2-star prospect.

Kelea Dennis 6-foot-2 Post Piedmont (Team Mariani) 2015: The physical tools are there for Dennis, who is the highest rated 4-star. On Monday, she was able to finish through contact and was a force on the glass at points. Dennis needs to be more consistent throughout the game and continue to develop a mid-range jumper. Heading into her junior year, she is near the top of the second tier of prospects in the 2015 class.

Destiny Graham 6-foot-3 Post Eastside Prep (Blythe's Basketball) 2015: It was a quiet morning for Graham in a loss to Team Mariani. At her best, Graham is an athlete with size who plays with energy and is an impact rebounder. However, she wasn't able to get going on Monday. The Eastside Prep standout has plenty of potential, but the production needs to follow to move into the Top 10 as her career moves along.

Coaches seen at the event are Oregon State, Cal Poly, Pacific, UNLV, Santa Clara, UC Merced, UC Davis, San Francisco, Wichita State, Fresno State, Cal State Northridge, St. Mary's, Nevada, Cal, UCLA, Weber State and Oregon.
